

The Rochester Wheels Adult Wheelchair Basketball Team

Established in 1972, The Rochester Wheels adult wheelchair basketball team demonstrates through competition and exhibitions, the significant abilities of athletes with disabilities.

The team participates in the National Wheelchair Basketball Association's (NWBA) Keystone Conference competing in the northeast region of the country.

Besides competition and tournaments, The Wheels also play exhibition games to increase awareness of wheelchair basketball. Spectators enjoy watching as the Wheels team members play the staff of local schools and members of organizations in the area. Everyone plays the game from a wheelchair.

The Rochester Wheels partners with SportsNet, a program of Rochester Rehabilitation.
